Dear Mr. Ingraham:

Re: Republic of Zambia National Food and Nutrition Commission Agreement to Collaborate

As your are aware, the National Food and Nutrition Commission is very concerned with the issues of hunger, malnutrition and access to products offering a greater degree of nutritional value. We are striving to educate the people of Zambia as well as the farmers for the need to add a variety of food products to their diets that are rich in critical nutrients.

As the Executive Director for the National Food and Nutrition Commission, I am very pleased to have had the opportunity of speaking with you to discuss your proposal, its mission and the members of your team. ResourceLinC and your alliance partners have truly paid attention to the details and have developed what seems to be a very robust program with a great potential for success.

I am pleased to see that you have engaged the communities by assembling a massive team of volunteers from the Women's Clubs Associations of Zambia. This represents an effort not seen before, and one that will certainly enable you to reach virtually every district and community of Zambia. I am also very familiar with the people in the Tropical Diseases Research Center, the Central Statistical Office, the University of Zambia School of Medicine Department of Nursing and the Zambia National Blood Transfusion Services who have committed their expertise in your efforts, and we are again, very pleased.

This represents a comprehensive team of the major stakeholders in the Republic of Zambia to provide assistance and input as you develop/ deploy your MCH/ RH solution.

Please accept this letter an agreement of the Zambia National Food and Nutrition Commission to collaborate with ResourceLinC and your alliance partners to develop and deploy a nutrition program that will save lives and provide a better quality of health for our children.

We are looking forward to a working with ResourceLinC, and will be anxiously awaiting your reply with the news that your Edu-TeleCenter program has been funded.

Sincerely,

Mr. Freddie Mubanga
Acting Executive Director
